

The Magic of

RUDYARD KIPLING

Jackson Gillman – the Stand-Up Chameleon. Rudyard Kipling – a magician of words. Put them together and you'll see why Kipling's timeless classics have been adored by many generations worldwide.

“JUST SO”

*Come learn how the Whale,
Camel, Elephant and others got their features in this sparkling adventure, O Best Beloved, for the young and young-at-heart.*

This show played Off-Broadway & was awarded Best Educational Show of the United Solo Theatre Festival

P.O. BOX 41

508-295-0886

ONSET, MA 02558

jxsong@comcast.net

www.jacksongillman.com

The Magic of Rudyard Kipling: Just So

—sprightly, faithful interpretations of these classics (video available).

"Jackson's enthusiasm and delight infuses these stories from beginning to end. He is very entertaining while remaining true to the stories as Kipling wrote them—further testimony to the timeless quality of these tales."

—Cynthia Ortiz, for the National School Library Journal

"We are still basking in the glow of our week of Rudyard Kipling stories. What a great time, thanks to you and your terrific storytelling."

—Landmark Trust USA, administrators

Kipling's historic home in Dummerston, VT

"I have heard so many positive comments regarding the show you did of Kipling's Just So Stories that I must write and again express my thanks. Your skill in weaving a tale kept the audience enthralled. I was impressed by your ability to work with such diverse ages, from young children to senior citizens."

—Meris Morrison, Brooks Memorial Library, Brattleboro, VT

"Jackson Gillman is an extraordinarily talented storyteller and showman. He had all of us, especially the adults, right in his hands!"

—Terry Bregy, Camden Shakespeare Company